

HERALD CAMERA-MEN TELL THEIR STORY

Federal Troops Enter Fallen Rebel Stronghold

(By Pacific & Atlantic)

Cheering throngs made streets almost impassable for gun carriages and troops of victorious federal troops.

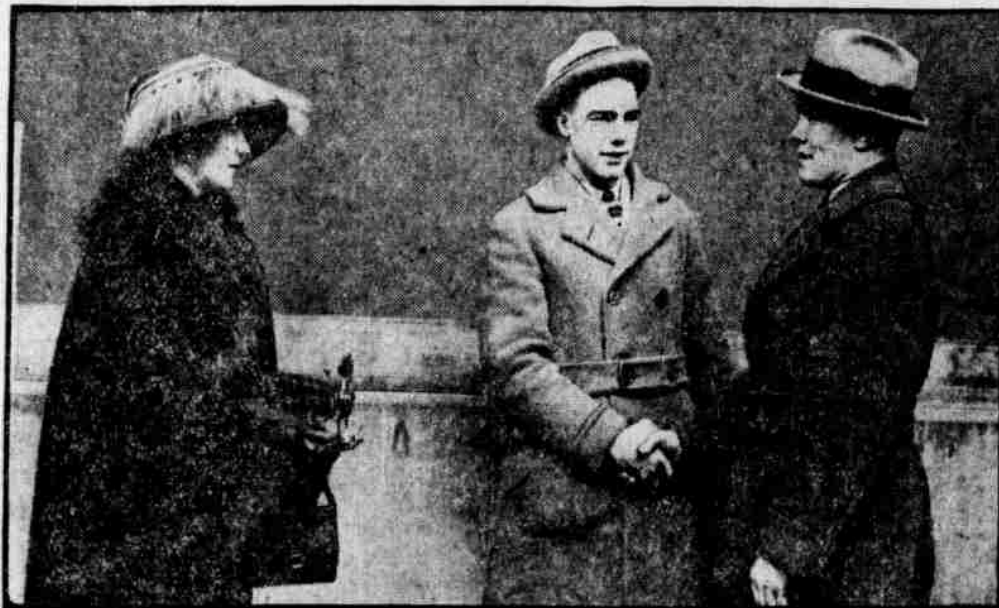

More Independence

(By Pacific & Atlantic)

Gov. Horace M. Towner (above) of Porto Rico, after a conference with President Coolidge, said the situation appeared favorable for the passage of bills granting greater autonomy to Porto Rico.

Ma Takes No Chances

Ma Stribling is sure to have a picture of the winner, for she snapped them both recently in New York when her rising son, Young Stribling, and Mike McTigue (right) met on March 31 in Newark, N. J.

He Goes to Work on Dare

When girl dared him to go to work, Freddy Milholland of Philadelphia society shoveled snow in pair of spats and kid gloves and earned $3.

A Pyramid of Champions

Photo shows a pyramid of champions. From top to bottom, Jackie Ott, then Bobby Skelton, with Kruger at the bottom and Johnny Weissmuller to the right, at Miami, Fla.

(By Pacific & Atlantic)

Execution of a louter (arrow) by federals near Vera Cruz. The entry of the victorious Obregon troops into the valuable seaport of Vera Cruz, following the rebel defeat, is shown in these exclusive photographs.

Governor Re-enters in Triumph

Photo shows Gov. Tejeda of Vera Cruz, stepping down from the car of Gen. Martinez on soil of state he had to flee when de la Huerta occupied Vera Cruz and to which he returned recently in triumph on investment of the city by Obregon's troops.

(By Pacific & Atlantic)

In spectacular leap, shown above just a second after the takeoff, Tullin Thams, champion Norwegian ski jumper, made record of 88.50 meters in winter Olympics at Chamonix.

In Rome Society

(By Pacific & Atlantic)

Many American women are members of Rome's social set. This photo shows Colini Faith Mola-Santucci, daughter of Madame Mola, formerly Miss Holmes of New York, and Gen. Mola.

New Oil Target

(By Pacific & Atlantic)

Brig. Gen. Charles G. Dawes (above), who is alleged to have given "tips" to administration officials in connection with Bethlehem Steel, Pure Oil and other stocks.

Princess-to-Be

(By Pacific & Atlantic)

Called best dressed woman in society, Mrs. Jean Nash is shown above at the French wintering resort, Deauville, France, with Amet Sabit Bey, Egyptian prince, to whom she soon is to be wed. The prince's mother recently gave her a splendid, but most unusual gift—a pink marble tomb.

Sued for Divorce

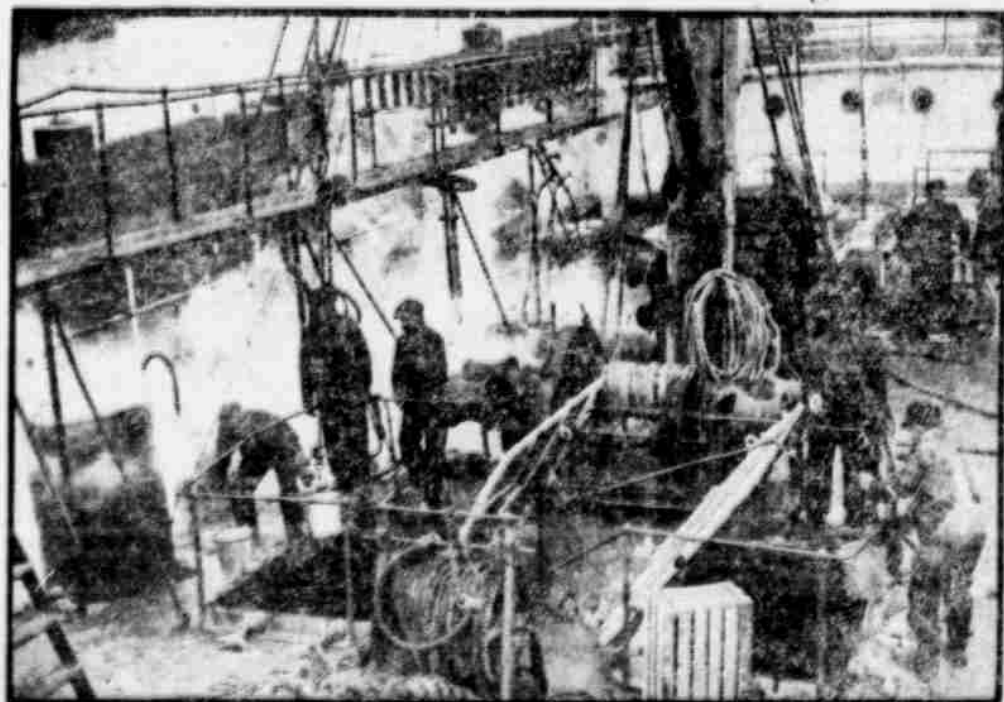

William Hoppe (above), famous billiardist, is plaintiff in a divorce action in which he is fighting for the custody of his two children, claiming that Mrs. Alice Hoppe, his wife, was caught in a room at Hotel Imperial, New York, after a raid.

Bang! Baby Hits Earth in Train Crash

In crushed wreckage of this auto baby was born to Mrs. Nathan Elman at Mt. Kisco, N. Y., just after automobile going to hospital was struck by a train. Baby was born in snow immediately after wreck.

(Copyright: 1924: Pacific & Atlantic Photos, Inc.)

(By Pacific & Atlantic)

In from Antarctic whaling voyage the Whaler Velloy at Staten Island, N. Y., found such Arctic weather here that whale oil had to be used to thaw it out.